The screenshot shows the SimpleMind website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the SimpleMind logo and links for Home, iPad/iPhone, Windows, Mac, and Android. Below the navigation bar, there are links for Download, Editor Help, Features, and Support. The main content area is titled "Home" and contains a paragraph describing SimpleMind as a mind mapping tool. Below the text is a central diagram with a "SimpleMind" node in the center. Four other nodes are connected to it: "Add Notes" (with a notepad icon), "Add Media" (with a microphone and image icons), "Analyze" (with gear icons), and "Learn" (with a person icon). Dotted lines connect the central node to each of the four surrounding nodes.

The screenshot shows the Socrative website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the Socrative logo (a hexagon with dots) and the text "socrative by MasteryConnect". To the right of the logo are links for Apps, Resources, and Help. Further right are two buttons: "STUDENT LOGIN" and "TEACHER LOGIN". The main content area features a dark background with a tablet held by hands. The tablet screen displays a bar chart with several horizontal bars of different colors (blue, pink, green, purple, orange) and a "WATCH DEMO" button in the center. To the left of the tablet, there is text that reads "Visualizing student understanding has never been clearer" and a "GET A FREE ACCOUNT" button.
